VOL. 101 —NO. 7 CAMERON, MILAM COUNTY TEXAS, THURSDAY, MAY 12, 1960 12 PAGES TODAY

Ol' With F. M. L. 101

There is virtue in duty well done. And that virtue was exemplified Saturday by Clint Pierce, of Hanover.

Coming up the steps of the Milam Courthouse Saturday evening with the Hanover election returns of the Democratic primary, he was assisted by his wife.

"Why do you continue doing the job as election judge when it works kind of a hardship on you, Mr. Pierce?" asked an onlooker.

"Well, I just wanted to make it an even number of years that I have been managing the election box at Hanover," Pierce replied. "This makes the 40th year."

101 - 101 - 101

There was the usual large gathering of cars around the courthouse square as election returns were broadcast over a PA system.

Because there were fewer precinct candidates, there was a lot less door - to - door campaigning in the Cameron area than in 1956.

But interest in the returns still was evidenced by the hundreds of cars that turned the square.

101 - 101 - 101

This is a rather typical development in political interest across the nation. Seems that we are interested in the results, like disinterested onlookers at a Friday night TV fight.

When we have a nation of disinterested onlookers, favoring TV spectacles over the "real life" incidents that form the basis of TV material, we have an excellent situation for Premier Khrushchev and his boys.

A man who takes the interest in public service as Mr. Pierce does sets a good example for us all. I hope we don't see the day when Mr. K will walk up the capitol steps with election returns in his pocket because of our disinterest.

WINNER IN POULTRY SHOW — Delmar Glaser, right, smiles happily as he and his sponsor Ray Burke get together after he won the pullet division and reserve championship at the Cameron Broiler show.

Milam Vote Favors Wallace, Moseley

County Favors Daniel, Ramsey, Wilson, Bowmer

Milam County voters went along with most of Texas Saturday in favoring Gov. Price Daniel, Lt.-Gov. Ben Ramsey and Atty- Gen. Will Wilson for Democratic renominations.

But Ramsey barely carried Milam County over his opponent Don Yarborough 2472 to 2427.

Daniel drew 2737 votes to Jack Cox's 2295 in the governor's primary. Incumbent Will Wilson was favored here over Waggoner Carr and Robert Looney. The vote was Wilson, 2404; Carr, 1982; and Looney, 475.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Rep. W. R. Poage, both unopposed, drew 4911 and 4959 votes respectively.

Heading the list of judicial races in area interest was the race for judge, Court of Criminal Appeals. Jim D. Bowmer, Temple, led in Milam County 2493 over W. T. McDonald with 1363 and incumbent Lloyd Davidson with 908.

But McDonald led the ticket in the state, followed by Davidson. They will run in the only state Democratic primary runoff in June.

In other county voting, Robert S. Calvert drew 2897 votes to Robert G. Hughes' 1946 for the chief justice, Texas Supreme Court nomination. For associate justice posts, Clyde E. Smith drew 5058 votes for Place 1 and Joe Greenhill drew 5054 for Place 2, Texas Supreme Court.

In the only other contested races, Milam County went for Jerry Sadler 2504 - 2361 over incumbent Bill Allcorn in the state land office commissioner. County voters also favored Robert S. Calvert over V. L. Ramsey 3296 to 1534 in the state comptroller's race.

Other unopposed primary candidates drew: railroad commissioner, Ernest O. Thompson, 5065 votes; state treasurer, Jesse James, 5036; commissioner of agriculture, John C. White, 5054; chief justice, Court of Civil Appeals, 3rd Supreme Judicial District, Roy C. Archer, 5062; and state board of education, 11th Congressional District, Horace K. Jackson, 5071.

W. C. Wallace

Herman Yezak

Yezak Wins In Robertson Vote

A 5,146-vote county Democratic electorate turned out Saturday to nominate W. C. Wallace district judge and Sen. Jarrard Secrest and give a 125-vote edge to Richard Moseley, who lost the race to incumbent Rep. Herman Yezak in Robertson County.

Yezak ran well ahead of Moseley in Robertson County with 2200 votes to Moseley's 1366. Total vote count was: Yezak, 4666;; Moseley, 3957.

Wallace drew 2800 votes to Robert C. Nelson's 2231 while Sen. Secrest polled 3246 votes compared to Godfrey Sullivan's 1609.

Secrest carried all three counties to win a Democratic re - nomination to the state senate for District 13, Bell, Milam and McLennan Counties.

In other contested precinct commissioners races, incumbent Byron Neal polled 1276 votes to Cliff Blackburn's 298 and J. B. Earle's 214 votes in the Precinct 3 race.

And in the Precinct 1 commissioner's race incumbent C. S. Raney defeated Joe Zajicek 503 to 182 votes.

In two contested constable races, Marshall Terry won over Harry Rogers, Jr., 1,453 to 192 while J. A. Taylor drew 177 votes to John Zajicek's 157 votes to win the Precinct 6 constable race. Six other candidates in constable races won unopposed.

Election returns were termed official by the Milam County Democratic committee. County Candidates nominated in the Saturday Democratic primary will be elected party candidates in the general election November 8.

Four unopposed candidates on the county ballot drew the following votes: county attorney, Jack Prescott, 5099; County sheriff, Carl C. Black, 5047; Tax assessor - collector, Valter White, 5083; and county Democratic chairman, Max McClaren, 5088.

McClaren termed the first spring Democratic primary vote a fair turnout. In the July, 1958 primary, a total of 5946 voters turned out, but there were a number of county - wide races that year.

Democrats in all 38 precinct conventions endorsed Sen. Lyndon Johnson for president, McClaren said. Each precinct convention elected delegates to the county convention scheduled 8 p. m. Saturday at the Milam District Courtroom.

Total votes for precinct constables were: Precinct 2, Thweatt, 237; Precinct 3, Burks, 342; Precinct 4, Cook, 1464; Precinct 5, Gamble, 238; Precinct 7, Dorner, 350 and Precinct 8, Paris, 347.

Cause Of Results In Insect Control

Lack of knowledge concerning life cycle and habits of insects and the improper use of materials are the chief causes of disappointing results experienced in insect control work. The first cotton insect control application is no exception. Effective control of thrips has been erratic. The adult is about one twenty - fifth of an inch long, rather light yellow, but turning brown as it becomes older. Thrips spend the winter in crop residue as well as green and pasture areas.

Thrip damage appear on young cotton plants from the two to four leaf stage of plant growth. Characteristic growth of new cotton leaves is a "rolled up" condition ideal for thrip protection. Since temperatures are rather cool during early cotton growth, thrip spend most of the time on the inside of curled up cotton leaves. When the temperature is around 80 degrees and the wind is calm, thrip can be found moving out on the cotton leaves and stems. This condition is ideal for effective control.

Longer Lasting Poisons Are Better - Toxaphene, Dieldrin and Heptachlor mixed with DDT at the rate of 1½ pints to 1 quart per acre will give the cotton plant a good start if properly applied. Cotton insect control guides are available in all county Extension offices.

"Spot oiling" of Johnsongrass with naptha and the use of lateral oiling shoes will cut cotton production cost. An improved Jetgun hand sprayer is available for spot oiling of Johnsongrass.

Lateral oiling shoes for controlling seedling grasses have been successfully used for several years by V. L. and Clifford Angell. The rate of application of equal parts of naptha and diesel oil should be five gallons per acre applied with directional spray equipment in such a manner that fan - shaped, staggered nozzle spray patterns horizontal to the ground line will be directd across the row. The nozzle tips should be about 10 inches apart, one nozzle on each side and at right angles to the row. The spray pattern should be directed below the leaves so that the foliage of the cotton plant will not be hit with the spray. The oil should be centered 1 to 1½ inches from ground and underneath the leaves when the cotton plants are four to six inches high.

Hints Offered On Controlling Snakes Around The House

COLLEGE STATION — Most snakes are not welcome, even as visitors, in yards and homes. This is true, points out Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, despite the fact that most snakes are beneficial to man becuase of the number of rodents and other pests they eat. But, he adds, becuase of the fear of poisonous snakes, most folks just don't care to see them around.

Cooper points out there is no sure way to keep snakes from moving into the yard or even suggestions which tend to discourage this happening. The best solution is to make the premises unon occasion the home out ofiers attractive to snakes by the removal of food and cover they like. Since most snakes feed on rats and mice, a good rodent control program will help. Maintaining rodent - proof buildings, rodent trapping or baiting programs and removal of rodent food supplies not only discourages rats and mice out snakes as well.

Closely mowed lawns and fields are much less attractive to snakes than are areas of tall grass, weeds and brush. Eliminate trash piles, leaves, boards, fla trocks and other materials which snakes use for cover. Weeds, logs, rocks and other objects around ponds attract snakes and should be removed if snakes are a problem.

If the proper 'housekeeping' job around the home is done, Cooper says the few snake vsiitors can be controlled by persistent killing.

To keep snakes from entering or crawling under a house, all possible points of entry should be blocked and this could be a costly operation, says Cooper. Snakes can pass through very small openings and they usually enter a building near or below the ground level. He says to make sure cellar doors, windows and screens fit tightly that walls and floors are free of cracks and that foundations, fireplaces and chimneys don't offer points of entry. Spaces around pipes, drains or ventilators must be plugged or screened.

Snake - proof fences can be built around homes or children's playing areas. Cooper can supply information on such fences.

Humplik Receives Football Scholarship

Joe Lee Humplik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Humplik of Rt. 1, Cameron received a partial football scholarship to Navarro Jr. College. Humplik, a high school senior, has seen action with the Yoemen gridiron crew the past three years.

At 18 years of age, he stands 5.8 and weighs 180 pounds. An all-district player the past two years he's varied in positions from guard to tackle.

Lettering as young as his sophomore season, the stockily built boy has made the starting lineup continously the past two seasons. His first year under Leo Jackson he showed good potential and developed fully under Jim Speer.

He added to his list of feats last week when he was named the schools most athletic boy by his classmates.

Humbplik told the Herald that he is to report to his College coaches next fall for his trial workout and if he makes a good impression a full football scholarship will be awarded him.

The Cameron Country Club held it's annual opening of their swimming pool over the weekend.

On the baseball scene Rodney Folschinsky hurled a 2-hitter as the Yoemen topped Hearne 2-1. Both hits were in the first inning.

In an earlier game Rogers backed up the Yoemen 9-5. The winner was Henderson and the loser was Ernest Bayer.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE SENIOR CLASS 1960

I wish to take this opportunity to extend my congratulations and best wishes to the Senior Class of Yoe High School. You have studied many hours and worked hard to earn your diplomas, and you have every reason to be proud of your achievement. There are many opportunities awaiting you and you have a great future ahead of you. We are indeed fortunate to live in the best country in the world where opportunities are unlimited. I urge you to take advantage of these opportunities.

Some of you will continue your education and others will go out into the business world, but whatever vocation you choose I wish you much happiness and success.

Have fun and enjoy your class trip to the Bandera Dude Ranch, another highlight in your High School days. While you are on your trip may I suggest that you keep in touch with the folks back home by calling them long distance. Rates are lower after 6:00 p. m. — and your call will go through twice as fast if you call by number.

CALL AHEAD FOR FUN

With Memorial Day weekend "just around the corner," it seems to me just about every family in Cameron is busy making holiday plans — for a backyard barbecue, a neighborhood get-together or a trip out of town.

If you are planning to visit out-of-town friends or relatives, it's a good idea to call and let them know when to expect you. And if you plan to visit any of the state parks or resort areas, better call ahead for good accommodations.

Since most resorts can be reached by telephone at practically any hour, you can save money by calling on Sundays or any weekday after 6 p.m., when long distance rates are lower.

And by calling station-to-station, you can save as much as one third more.

But the sooner you call, the sooner you can make the rest of your plans. Why not call this evening.

WHAT ELSE IS SO DEPENDABLE

Most folks don't realize it, but everytime you make or receive a telephone call, your phone sets a new record for dependability.

And because it does, you needn't worry about wear and tear, replacement parts or repair bills. When repairs are needed, there is no charge to you. I doubt whether there are many other things you have that are so free of trouble as your phone.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Grist For The Mill

A rather grim situation has developed in always queasy Soviet-U. S. relations with the downing of an American agent over Russian territory.

With a Summit meeting due May 16, the U. S. is chagrined to international embarrassment by the incident.

As if planned by Khrushchev himself, the event is turning into a natural propaganda weapon the Premier could not have arranged to greater Russian advantage.

Fate plays peculiar tricks on people. In this instance, an agent of the U. S. has opened a gap for Russian exploitation at a most inopportune time.

World reaction is mixed, uncertain of the repercussions the incident will have at the Summit.

The resulting tensions point up the cloak-and-dagger aspects of a Cold War. The State Department admitted Francis G. Powers, the American pilot, was on "official business" over Russia. Officials expect a possible trial of the 30-year-old American.

The key powers know well the intelligence operations of the others, but little if nothing is said about it for world consumption.

Here then, a U. S. agent drops into Russian hands for the propaganda coup of the year. And the effect of his fall will not clearly be known until the Summit begins.

Many nations and many people give little credance to Summit talks anyhow. They would say "so what" to the incident.

But any hope for easing a European cold war crisis is not improved by the bally-hoo Russia is giving this situation.

Let's hope that Khrushchev doesn't make too merry with his advantage. He's hard enough to deal with when there is less grist for his mill.

Reviewing Early Census . . .

A preliminary announcement on Milam County's census total shows that 22,149 people have been counted.

This compares with a 1950 census of 23,585 people.

The district census supervisor says this 1960 total is subject to revision after returns for non-residents are conducted.

This would mean that Milam County has lost about 1,000 residents during the past decade. Close analysis would show that the construction of Alcoa stemmed the downward trend of Milam population in an era when agriculture was operating on a broader scale.

Census officials have not yet released figures for incorporated Milam towns. When these totals are available, we will see exactly how the shift of population went.

Population estimates in the mid-'50's were about 24,500 due to anticipated gains in population in the Rockdale area.

One can possibly imagine the effect on population if such a tremendous development as Alcoa did not occur in Milam County. If Alcoa employs, say 1,200 people, that means about 4800 living in Milam County or vicinity who are dependent upon this industrial employment.

By the same token, one can visualize the impact of changes in the agriculture picture on county population. It is likely that most of these 4,800 people would not now be in Milam County if agriculture were still the primary basis of employment.

The 1960 census is following a similar pattern in other agri-industrial counties in Central Texas: a loss in rural population and a gain in incorporated towns.

We await with interest the official announcement of town and county population from the Census Bureau.

Dear Sir:

I take pleasure in making a preliminary announcement of the population of Milam County. The census count to date, taken as of April 1, 1960 is 22,149.

These figure are believed to be substantially correct but are subject to revision after the returns for nonresidents are credited to their proper locality and other routine checks have been made. Although a significant revision is unlikely, minor revision may possibly occur after careful examination of the returns. The official announcement of population will be made at a later date by the Director of the Bureau of the Census.

Sincerely
J. Fred Simon Jr.
Census District Supervisor

Brochure Aimed At More Visitors

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Texas Highway Department soon will come out with a brochure aimed at attracting out-of - state tourists to Texas.

Publication of the booklet with state Highway funds has been okayed by Attorney General Will Wilson. State Comptroller questioned the legality of using road - use tax revenue for non - highway purposes, and the Attorney General's opinion as to legality was requested.

Actually, the brochure sticks pretty close to the road. It contains a map of the Texas highway system, tells about traffic laws and highway markers and makes a strong appeal for safe driving.

Its publication was declared legal on grounds that to refuse authorization would, in effect, declare unconstitutional the amendment approved by the people to allow advertising of Texas with state funds.

Expense of the brochure, said Wilson's opinion, "will be rfunded to the highway program many times due to the great increase in automobile travel and the resultant increase in gasoline taxes."

Tourist spending in Texas dropped by $100,000,000 last year. This has been attributed by many to the fact that other states have advertised vigorously while Texas has not.

Teacher Training Studied

State Board of Education is considering proposals for revising requirements for education of public school teachers. Decision is to be made next summer.

Suggestions include:

1. Requiring all teachers to take 18 semester hours in education courses.

2. Requiring elementary school teachers to take 18 hours in subject matter and skills to be taught plus another 18 hours in related areas. An optional plan would be 24 hours in one subject and 18 in another.

3. Requiring future teachers to spend six semester hours of practice teaching. It was suggested that this requirement could be set aside for persons with a college degree and three years actual teaching experience.

DON'T TAKE IT EASY

Biggest problem in driving on the new long, straight, controlled access highways is that it's too easy. Drivers get bored, inattentive, sleepy.

Rhythmic hum of powerful engines mile after mile . . . soft rumble of tires can produce a decided hypnotic effect," says the State Health Department Bulletin.

It suggests these ways for a driver to keep awake and alert: (1) Watch for police cars. (2) Chew gum — a full pack at a time. (3) Sing loudly and talk to yourself out loud, or to a passenger. (4) Drive in your stocking feet. (5) Sit on something hard. (6) Keep moving your eyes. (7) Don't overeat before a trip. (8) Make periodic stops.

Finally says the Bulletin, if you get sleepy, the only real cure is to pull off the road, stop and go to sleep.

It cautions against artificial stimulants and driving after taking tranquilizers and antihistamines.

WHAT'S A BOMB?

Anyone who buys a jar of gasoline for his lawn mower could be accused of violationg the state's anti - bomb law, a Dallas labor lawyer argued before the Court of Criminal Appeals.

His client was convicted of having assembled materials for a "Molotov cocktail" — a homemade bomb consisting of a jar of gasoline with a rag stuffed in the top for a wick.

In the case at issue, the bomb was exploded in the driveway of a non - striking employe during a Dallas labor dispute.

W. R. Poage Thanks District 11 For Interest Support

By W. R. Poage

Although I was among the fortunate candidates who had no opponent in the recent election, I am not unmindful of the splendid support of my friends. I realize that had it not been for these friends I might well have had the burden of an active campaign. Therefore, to all of those who voted for me last week, I want to sincerely say "I thank you."

It shall be my endeavor in the future as it has in the past to serve the interests of our District. I hope that I may at all times correctly interpret those interests.

There are, of course, many governmental matters over which the Legislative Branch does not have jurisdiction. I cannot always get the results I want and no two of us are always agreed as to what is the best course, but I sincerely hope that my services shall justify your support.

In any event, if you think that our office can be helpful, don't hesitate to write to us becuase everyone in this office realizes that the office belongs to you, the people of the Eleventh District. We are but your employees and we are always glad to try to help you.

Johnson, Poage Discuss Issues

Senate . . .

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson said Sunday that the "batting Average" of Congress is better than usual this session.

Johnson, in a radio report recorded for broadcast in Texas, had as a guest on his weekly program Senator Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.).

Together, the two Senators discussed achievements of the Congress and briefly outlined major work still to be done.

"We have come to expect each year about this time some charge that Congress has done too much or not done enough," Johnson said.

Looking to the immediate futuer, Johnson predicted that before the session is over "we will pass an amendment to the Social Security Act, we will have some good farm legislation, we'll pass a good housing bill, we will pass some form of medical care bill for the aged and aging that will protect the doctor - patient relationship We'll pass a minimum wage bill."

The Senate Majority Leader also predicted the Congress will enact space legislation as recommended by the President.

"In addition," he said, "I think that we will pass a good bill through both houses in connection with mutual aid that will be an improvement over any other bill passed."

House . . .

By Cong. Bob Poage

This has been a week of distinguished visitors. On Monday President Charles DeGaulle of the French Republic spoke to a joint session of Congress. He received one of the most enthusiastic receptions ever accorded a foreign visitor. I feel that this is of great significance because General DeGaulle has become a kind of symbol of stability and determination in our negotiations with the U. S. S. R. I fear that the enthusiastic support of the French President indicates a considerable degree of doubt about firmness on the part of our own officials. I hope that this doubt is unfounded, but we simply can't overlook the fact that President Eisenhower is inherently reluctant to take direct issue with Mr. Kruchschev.

I hope that the determination of De Gaulle, not the appeasement of Prime Minister McMillan, may prevail at the Summit Meeting.

On Thursday the King of Nepal was our guest. While he does not enjoy the great reputation of General De Gaulle, and while he does not present the same commanding figure, he too (strange as it may seem for a King) is a symbol of Democracy.

For probably 200 years Nepal was actually ruled by the Rana family. The first Rana was Prime Minister. He exercised such power that he was able to pass the office on to his family. Throughout the years the Ranas held the actual power of government. Each built a palace larger than his predecessor. Finally the King overthrew the Prime Minister and in effect returned the government to the people.

Today Nepal has a democratically elected Parliament (the first in its thousand years of history). It has a "responsible" government of the British type. It is making great progress. It is a next door neighbor to Red China, but the very fact that the King was independent enough to visit the United States at exactly the time the Red Chinesse ruler was visiting his country is bound to tell people all over Asia that the King of Nepal prefers Wessern friends. When the head of a small country snubs the Chinese, its significance is not lost on other small countries.

The LITTLE RIVER Philosopher

THIS WEEK:

Dear editar:

Of all the things scientists could be doing for man in a beneficial sort of way, I am constantly amazed at the number of sideroads they're always running down.

For example, last night I read in a newspaper that science is working on a new drug to get more physical energy out of a man. As I understand it, some scientists believe man is capable of a lot more work than he's putting out now, and this new drug aims at "helping him tap this great inner reserve of physical power."

Why, one scientist said, "the new drug now being perfected should allow a man to run the mile in three minutes." Around four is the record now.

This is the sort of thing I'm talking about. Of all the goals science could point toward, I believe working on something to allow a man to run a mile in three minutes is about the worst, at least as far as I'm concerned.

Furthermore, even if they gave this new drug away free — and a free drug or even a low - priced one would be a miracle drug these days — I wouldn't be interested in taking any. If I've got a great reservoir of untapped energy inside me, the last thing I want to do is stir it up and unloose it.

One of the big advantages of the new drug, this scientist said, would be its use in war. Give it to a soldier and double his combat energy. The only trouble with this is that the other side would have the same drug too and the results would be the same, only quicker.

It's all right for science to spend its time working on greater speeds for airplanes, rockets, missiles, submarines, etc., but when it starts working on something to make me run faster or work harder, it's wasting its time. I wouldn't touch the new drug with a 10 - foot pole. I'm already working as hard as I intend to.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Postmaster Gives Special Advice To Vacationers

It won't be long until the kids are out of school. And it won't be much longer till their parents start off across the country in all directions.

Postmaster J. R. Hays has these bits of special advice for those who want their vacations to be as pleasant as possible:

1. Don't let a stuffed mail box advertise your absence. Ask a neighbor to take the mail from your box and hold it until you return, or make written request to your postmaster to hold your mail at the post office while you are away.

2. File a forwarding order at the local post office if you want to receive mail while you're away. Forwarding first - class mail does not require additional postage. Other classes of mail will need more postage, but you can guarantee payment of this postage by so indicating on the forwarding order which you fill out.

3. Give your full and complete vacation address to people who may write you.

4. Use enough postage. Remember that regular size post cards take 3 cents, jumbo size take 4 cents and first - class letters take 4 cents an ounce. Post cards with appendages -- bags of salt, bags of ore, national park mementos -- require the first - class rate of postage.

Don't send cash in letters. Use postal orders to transmit money, and register letters containing other valuable items.

6. Prepare packages carefully, and address them on one side only.

7. Buy books of stamps for convenience and for protection against body moisture which develops on long drives in hot weather.

CARS magazine reports The Lark is the best overall buy among all 23 American automobiles... including all other compacts.

BEST... After judging The Lark—"the Best of the Compacts"—the editors of CARS enlarged their enthusiasm and declared The Lark, "The Best Overall Buy." Here's how they summed up their expert opinion in the June issue of CARS:

MANY REASONS... "The Lark will do anything and go anywhere the larger cars will, at a lower cost.... The Lark is styled for both today and tomorrow, and engineered for hard, economical use.... On any basis, this is a tough car to beat."

FREE COPY... Pick up your free copy of CARS buyer's guide at your Studebaker Dealer's.

With five of the six compacts, you have to compromise... but with The Lark, there's no compromise on selection, roominess, performance or luxury.

Cen-Tex Mobile Feed Service Observing First Anniversary

This week, Cen - Tex Mobile Feed Service is celebrating the first annivesary in business, according to Dick Ellison and O. A. White, owners.

One year ago May 1, Ellison and White introduced a new - type farm feed processing service which makes it unnecessary for farmers and feeders to haul feed away from the farm for processing into livestock and poultry rations.

Instead, on a regular schedule, a mobile mill called a Daffin Feedmobile brings all the functions of a complete feed processing plant right into the lot and prepares formulas from hone-grown grains and roughages.

The new idea has been well received in the Cameron area, Ellison and White says. At present the firm's Daffin Feedmobile is serving approximately 108 farms, and new customers are being added regularly, he reports.

Local feeders particularly welcome the convenience of leaving their feedstuffs right where they are harvested and stored, and many have cited examples of saving hours of work each week, according to White and Ellison.

"We're helping to fight inflation", they said, "by saving our farmer - customers time and money. They can save on each batch of fresh feed we prepare with our Feedmobile and unload directly into their feed storage binds or tanks with our pneumatic unloading system. In turn we are very thankful for the way feeders have accetped this new mobile milling service. It seems even the hogs, cattle and poultry appreciate it from the reports we get!"

TEXAS LAWMEN

ISAAC W. BURTON, RANGER

The First Sea-going Ranger

Twenty men to lick an invading force of three warships! But Captain Isaac W. Burton's men were Texas Rangers. It was 1835. His little company had a good long stretch of beach to patrol, the Texas Gulf coast. Orders were to look out for Mexicans and get 'em. On June 3 they saw a ship in the bay of Copano. Said Captain Ike, "We can't swim, so we'll make 'em come after us!" History doesn't detail the enticement used . . perhaps a Mexican flag or a petticoat . . but a boat promptly came ashore. Just as promptly captured, the rowers were forced to take Captain Burton and a dozen Rangers out to the ship. Very soon, with Captain Ike in command, the ship was headed for Velasco, at the mouth of the Brazos. But contrary winds delayed her. Not ill winds . . for while she was hove to, two other Mexican ships showed up. The Ranger Captain, with the unwilling assistance of the Mexican skipper, decoyed their officers aboard his prize ship. When the winds eased a bit the entire prize flotilla eased up to Velasco landing to deliver about $25,000 worth of arms and supplies to the Texas Army. Thereafter, much to their embarrassment and chagrin, Captain Isaac W. Burton and his sea-going Rangers were known frontier-wide as the "horse marines".

Today in Texas so many of the good things in life are ours by right, not by force of capture. And the industries that produce them are respected, just as we respect law and order. The brewing industry is one . . the producer of payrolls and community revenues as well as the refreshment of moderation. In Texas, "Beer Belongs". Brewers, wholesalers and retailers, and the United States Brewers Foundation are working constantly in cooperation with today's lawmen, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions.
